BACKGROUND

Robert is a well-rounded International Keynote Speaker, Life Coach, business professional, and team leader with a vast skill set woven from: personal experiences, intuition, empathy, mentoring/coaching, teaching, creativity, functional operational expertise, financial acumen, problem-solving, strategic thinking, and an entrepreneurial mindset focused on the cost/benefit ratio of actions.

ABOUT

Robert is a Storyteller, Speaker, Author, Life Coach, and Podcast Host. Yet, he talks of himself as Possibility. He is the guy who believes in measuring life by joy because in his darkest moments he found joy was ever-present. He believes that play is vital to living a joyful life and it is only when we free our minds and value the ordinary moments that we live an extraordinary life. He realized all he had to do was turn the dial of the kaleidoscope of his perspective to live an amazing life regardless of adversity. And that requires conscious choices.

POSSIBILITY IN ACTION

Robert's mission is to empower, guide, and inspire people to meet their greatness. He lives a philosophy he calls Possibility in Action – taking desire for positive transformation and putting it into action through self-awareness and making conscious choices. In other words, waking up and living your life on purpose with purpose.

Robert's passion, witty nature, and openness motivates participants to question paradigms and desire transformation. "Our potential is found in our uniqueness - plain and simple. Once we honor that, we then become the main character in the movie of our life and reach higher."

He invites us all to stand in our agency and not be afraid to be afraid. In turn, a world of possibilities opens for us. To live as Possibility in Action is to live consciously, fully, and joyfully. It is not the number of years but the moments of joy that create a full life.
